

Professor Paul O'Flynn FRCS, is a Consultant ENT/Head and Neck Surgeon at London's University College Hospital.

He qualified in 1982 and trained in London and Nottingham before being appointed Consultant ENT Surgeon at The Royal National Throat, Nose and Ear Hospital in 1993.

Since 2005 he has been ENT Head and Neck lead At UCH, Chair of the Head and Neck Multi-Disciplinary Team and Chair of the North London Cancer Network, Head & Neck tumour Board.

He is Honorary Professor at the Deenanath Mangeshkar Hospital and Research Centre, Pune, India.

In 2012 he was elected to the Council of the Royal College of Surgeons of England. He is the RCS Council lead for commissioning of surgical services and has a particular interest in Quality Assurance and International relations.

He is President of the Laryngology and Rhinology section at the Royal Society of Medicine.

Paul's main interests are head and neck surgery, particularly laryngeal and parotid surgery and airway management.

His non-medical interests include tennis and middle distance running.